Duesseldorf.—The reaction of the Germans, particularly in Berlin official circles, to General Degoutte's warning that the French and Belgians had come to the end of their patience and that the occupying forces were ready to take whatever force and measures were necessary before their policy was awaited here. Wednesday, as the allies strengthened their position, midnight will see the expiration of the two weeks' moratorium recently granted Germany for the payment of her half billion gold marks reparations. Whether the French will make default the occasion for putting into effect the expected Ruhr customs barrier and the cessation of coal shipments eastward had not been announced Wednesday morning.

It is reported that the Berlin government through minister of railroads has forbidden the German personnel from carrying out any orders of the French and Belgians. The decree also forbade the workers to operate in the shipment of coal and timber out of Germany to either France or Belgium.

STINNES REPUDIATES CONSTRUCTION CONTRACT
Berlin.—Hugo Stinnes has repudiated the contract for construction work in the devastated area of France which he included several months ago with Marquis Lubarsac, now the Deutsche Borkers Zeitung. Hundreds of carloads of building material have been sent into northern France under the provisions of the agreement.

Richland Center.—John Magnuson's statement at Wisconsin Rapids that Otto Schneek, Wood county farmer who was drowned near here last September, was the victim of the same man who sent the bomb which caused the death of Mrs. James R. Clegg, is given little credence by authorities here. O. D. Clegg, district attorney, Tuesday night, said Schneek's death was thoroughly investigated at the time and he was convinced the man had drowned while wading with his two sons, although his body was found in only two feet of water.

ROCK COUNTY FAIR
DIRECTORS REMAIN

Association Re-elects Heads in Enthusiastic Meeting; Will Have 1923 Exhibit.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evanston.—Their interest reawakened by attachment made recently by Mayor Thomas E. Welsh, Janesville, the mother of the Rock County Fair association held an enthusiastic annual meeting, reelecting five directors and deciding by an almost unanimous vote to stage a fair this year. The date is left to the board of directors but generally the first week in September.

The Turks desired the delay of eight days so that they need not give a definite reply to acceptance of the terms until that time expired.

The session was suspended to allow the allies to reach an agreement on the reply to be made to Ismet.

On the resumption of the conference session, Lord Curzon announced it would be impossible to satisfy the Turkish requirements to him, but that the world probably would be disposed to grant the Turks the fair this year without a cent owing.

The feature of the meeting was passage of a resolution that a vote of thanks be tendered Mayor Welsh for his great help in making possible the holding of the Rock County Fair.

A long consultation among the allied delegates in an endeavor to maintain a united front against the Turks preceded the opening of the Near East conference yesterday. It was decided that the world probably would be disposed to grant the Turks the fair this year without a cent owing.

A LUBRICANT—NOT A LAXATIVE

CITY MAY ORDER SEWER MACHINE

To be Known as Bower City Canning Co.—Banner Year Predicted.

Municipal purchase of a sanitary sewer cleaning machine at a cost of $300 to $1,000 is being considered. Captain Boyle, Can. Co., says as a result of considerable trouble experienced in the past six months in mains becoming clogged and stopped up by roots of trees. In the past week it has been necessary to excavate at three different points to locate and clear away the stoppage on Main Street, and see what could be done to provide the same again by Street Commissioner Thomas McKinney and the fire department in eliminating similar trouble on Prospect avenue.

"Every city in the country has this trouble to contend with, many of them have sewer cleaning machines, and it is only a question of whether it would be more advisable to buy now or delay the purchase of a machine for Janesville," Mr. Korch explained. "It is only a question of time when we shall have to have one."

Agent Due Thursday.

An agent from the Turbine Sewer Machine company, Milwaukee, which has outfitts in a number of Wisconsin cities, is expected in the city Thursday, to confer with Mr. Korch, who will in turn submit the company's proposition to the board of aldermen and the city council for action.

"The company manufactures a complete outfit, including trailer for attachment to motor trucks, this selling at $1,600, although Mr. Korch believes that the city may be able to get along without the trailer part of the equipment and thus, reduce the cost."

Edgerton and Baraboo are among the nearby Wisconsin cities owning these machines. Other Badger cities having them are: Milwaukee, Sparta, Monomoy, Cudahy, Kenosha, Elkhorn, Two Rivers, Appleton, Madison, La Crosse, Waukesha, Lake Mills, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and Antigo.

City Has Been Fortunate.

"We have been unusually fortunate in Janesville so far as sewer cleaning goes. We have not had any trouble with our sewers for years," said Mr. Korch. "While many cities have been having trouble for years necessitating the purchase of machines, it is only within the last six months that we have had to cope with the problem. Many of our sewers have been in for 20 years or more and for some time have been experiencing trouble from roots. The two instances which have arisen here are typical of what we may expect in the future unless we have a cleaning device."

"The roots make their way into the sewers through small holes or cracks in the joints between the pipes, usually at the joints. Once inside, they grow and expand, root spread rapidly and grow to unusual sizes, finally resulting in completely clogging the lateral and main."

Rooting As Futility.

"Again such an obstacle, the ordinary rodding of a sewer is futile as it will not cut away the growths. What is needed is a powerful machine which is equipped with a set of knives and operated by water from the hydrants. This device moves along from man-hole to man-hole, cutting away roots and all other obstructions and at the same time flushing the entire pipe."

"There is a fairly real solution of the trouble and is considerably more advisable than cutting out the shade trees as some cities have done, in order to prevent the roots from disrupting their sewer systems."

"The only question that arises is: Would it be advisable to wait until our trouble becomes worse?"

Transformers for Mushrooms Arrive

Special transformers for the 11 mushroom lights in the downtown section have been received by the Janesville Electric company and are being installed this week, Earle S. McCorquodale said Tuesday. The transformers are connected in series with the mushroom lights to the ornamental lighting system and the special switch arrangement in use since installation will be discontinued. The installation of transformers may take two weeks.

Hanson Plant Runs Overtime

Because of early orders which will be impossible to fill otherwise, the Hanson Furniture company plant is working overtime. A substantial amount of work in 1923 is the outlook for the Hanson company, according to President A. J. Gibbons, as the result of an extensive building program both for homes and offices in the past year. Mahogany for use of the Standard company comes from Honduras, and the traffic in this wood has been increased.

WILL WAR PERIL HIT DEBT FUNDING?

Prompt British Settlement With America Might Prove Advantage, Argument.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923, by Jacksonville Daily Gazette.

Washington.—War clouds on the horizon of Europe may cause the British cabinet to defer action indefinitely on the plan for a settlement of the debt question.

Developments not only in the Ruhr but in the Near East have cast such a shadow of threatening war that the announcement of a delay on the debt negotiations would not surprise many who are keeping here. The British government is known to be concerned about the possible outlay of cash that might be needed if the British army and navy and air forces have to be mobilized to protect British interests.

The breakup of the Lausanne conference has stirred the French, too, who are alarmed over the possibilities according to official information reaching here today. The troubles in the Ruhr are commanding French attention, and the British are at a moment so that France's contribution to any military combination in the Near East is "necessarily a matter of grave concern."

May See Advantages.
There is, of course, another way of looking at the need for getting rid of the debt question. The British cabinet may decide that more advantages might flow from a settlement between America and Great Britain at this time than from an indefinite postponement for while the latter would mean more time for refinancing operations, the former would have certain effects on the present situation.

The British have felt for some time that what was needed in the Near Eastern crisis was a firmer stand by the American government. The Turks have in the meantime seen France and England grow further and further apart. The Ruhr crisis may have given America pull out of the controversy, too. Should the word be passed out that America and Great Britain couldn't settle their debt controversy, the French might draw the inference that Anglo-American unity was impossible and the Turks might be further persuaded to play their lone hand.

Would Hit Near East.
It, on the other hand, America and Great Britain should come to an agreement on the settlement of debts, it would be diplomatic demonstration of the greatest importance and the Near Eastern situation would feel the effects of such a demonstration at once. This is the view taken by those British officials who are advocating a settlement on American terms. They believe they believe the terms are difficult and may even later become impossible of fulfillment. This latter idea is based on the thought that if Europe is once more aflame and the British government finds itself compelled to make further outlays in military and naval purposes America would hardly insist upon the payment of interest but probably would defer the same until the British were able to pay, notwithstanding the provisions of any agreement entered into now.

London Source of Funds.

The only bright spot on the horizon is that the British know the only possible source of funds in Europe today is Great Britain and no war can be carried on very long without cash. All these eventualities, however, must be taken into consideration by the British cabinet before an answer is given to America. The difficulties of the Near Eastern situation which may waylay the settlement will be postponed if it will be evident that Great Britain fears another catastrophe may befall Europe and cannot afford to take any chances on the payment of interest or principal. The British do not like to make agreements on which they cannot make good. Their credit for centuries has been built up because of their readiness to meet obligations. If the British do decide to commit themselves to the American terms they will be doing it solely in the hope that out of a British-American understanding on finance will come a bigger and broader understanding on the larger diplomatic developments of the hour.

Must Consider Criticism.
Whatever plan is devised for the settlement of reparations, for instance, will need American and British support to command respect in Germany. The whole thing is international. The British must consider the effect of public opinion that portion of American public opinion which is none too friendly to Great Britain anyhow. "Would a postponement afford a pretext for criticism?"

The situation at the moment is one of hope that a settlement of the debt question will yet be reached, but it cannot be denied that the optimism which enveloped the nation at the time the British mission left for Europe has been to a large extent dispelled by the unfavorable turn of affairs in the near east and the Ruhr.

Ministers Debate
Proposed Canvass
Members of the Janesville Ministerial association held an adjourned meeting at the Y. M. C. A., Monday afternoon, but took no action on the matter of dividing the city into sections among the various ministers to canvass the unchurched people. Many present were against the plan, others were for it. It was declared that the plan is a new one never known to have been tried. Some expressed themselves in favor of a religious census of the city, to be taken by laymen. The Rev. Leland Marion, First Christian church, left the meeting after the voting of a number had been voted.

FIFTY PHYSICIANS HEAR PERCY TALK

Noted Chicago Surgeon Tells of Marvels of Blood Transfusion.

Fifty physicians from Beloit, Janesville, Brookfield, Oconomowoc, Edgerton, Evansville, Footville, and Sharon heard Dr. Nelson Mortimer Percy, famous Chicago surgeon, tell of the wonders of blood transfusion, at the January meeting of the Rock County Medical Society at Mercy Hospital Tuesday night.

Introduced by Dr. T. W. Nezum, who once time substituted for Dr. Percy in his practice with Dr. Ochsner, Dr. Percy told of various types of cases where blood transfusion was used. It is said blood transfusion had been found the only effective means in treating severe hemorrhage cases.

Other cases where transfusion is used effectively, he said, is in injury cases where there has been great loss of blood; infectious diseases where blood had been destroyed; in cases of hereditary type of bleeding—persons who bleed with the slightest injury; in putting a patient in shape for an operation and replacing blood lost during the operation.

One of the most interesting cases where blood transfusion was used was in cases of gas poisoning, he said. The destroyed blood is replaced by new, reviving the patient immediately.

Blood is of four types, physicians have determined, and persons of the same type can best give and take blood although some mix with all or several types. Various types of transfusions used are: Various types of plasma transfusions using serum albumin-sorbito to keep blood from clotting, and the method used by Dr. Percy, which is to draw the blood into a Percy tube, coated on the inside with paraffin and containing liquid paraffin, thus preventing the blood from clotting.

Supper was served and a business session held. The next meeting will be held at Beloit, with Mrs. L. J. DoSwarte, Mrs. E. R. Clegg, Beloit; F. C. Blaneveld and W. L. Johnson, Janesville, and S. W. Forbusch, Oconomowoc, having charge of arrangements.

Milton Legion Installs Officers

Members of the Richard Willis Janesville post of the American Legion installed the newly elected officers of the Milton post Tuesday night. John W. Gross, Jr., assisted by Lee Ford, as sergeant at arms, performed the ceremony. W. A. Karlau also attended from this city. A "feast" followed.

The new officers are: E. R. Clegg, commander; Don Borden, vice-commander; H. S. Davis, adjutant; Mr. Burdick, finance officer; Walter Holdiday, chaplain; and B. L. Bond, sergeant at arms.

The Milton post plans a dance in the near future.

THEATER CHANGES HANDS, THURSDAY

Last showings of pictures at the Majestic theater under the management of Mrs. Ben Smith, who has been conducting it for almost two years, occurred Wednesday and on Thursday the theater was turned over to Manager Charles G. Beutin of the Myers theater. It will be closed for remodeling and cleaning and on Sunday will open with a new policy in effect. The opening picture, it is announced, will be "A Bachelor Daddy" with Thomas Meighan. The present plan is to show new Paramount pictures, for which there was a big demand at their first showings here.

MEETS THURSDAY.

The Ladies Aid society of St. John's church will meet in the church parlors at 2:30 Thursday.

MARY WILL COUSE-ZIE
Boston's Mary Couse called on Emily Couse here today seeking the aid of the exponent of auto-suggestion to "improve her health, her disposition and her voice."

FIVE years of suffering from stomach trouble, nervousness and a general run-down condition was ended when he got Tanlac, declares Ed. J. Whalen, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Whalen also gained fifteen pounds in weight.

The Beloit college team with four conference games in the next week should stand a favorable chance for another title this year. Milwaukee is playing all Beloit on Feb. 1 and 2. The Beloit team is looked at as Beloit's only option. The Gold having beaten the other three teams already this season. Milwaukee has defeated Knox and Lake Forest and after Beloit's defeat by the Lake Shore quintet last Saturday, is considered a strong opponent.

First Father-Son Meeting, Tuesday
Plans for observance of Father-Son week next week are rapidly formulating, and the best observance in several years is planned. There will be daily events of interest, with two especially standing out. These are the annual mixer on Feb. 7 and 8. Tuesday night, to which all fathers and sons are invited, and the general meeting at the new high school auditorium Thursday night, to which the fathers and sons of the entire city are also invited. The Thursday meeting will be preceded by banquets in the various cooperating churches, and the Tuesday evening in the "X" will be conducted by C. E. Clough, boys' worker at the Y. M. C. A.

NEW PRINCIPAL ON JOB AT FOOTVILLE
Prin. E. L. Albrect, of the Footville graded school, has resigned, to return to his home at Slingererville on account of pressure of other business, according to William Timm, district school clerk. Albrect took the position in September. He was succeeded yesterday by Gilmore Longbottom, principal of the school, whose four teachers and both grammar and two years of high school.

IN TO-DAY'S NEWS
Northwest and New England are suffering in cold wave, while south and middle west enjoy mild temperature. James D. Summers, Salt Lake City, fell from an altitude of 19,000 feet to within 400 feet of the ground, where he righted the plane and landed safely. Some unconscious from the cold at the high altitude.

"But Tanlac has wiped the slate clean and now I am eating anything I want, and am stronger and healthier than in many a day. If anybody wants to know the real value of Tanlac, send them me."

Tanlac is sold by all leading drug-gists.

Over 35 million bottles sold.

OBITUARY

Miss Mary Winnie. Darden—Miss Mary Winnie, who lived here since 1869, when she came from New York state, where she was born, died Monday at the home of her sister, Mrs. McDonald, Janesville, after a long illness. She lived several years at Milton Junction. Besides her sister she is survived by one niece, Mrs. Truman Brigham, and a nephew, Frank A. Johnson, Minn., April 18.

Five physicians from Beloit, Janesville, Brookfield, Oconomowoc, Edgerton, Evansville, Footville, and Sharon heard Dr. Nelson Mortimer Percy, famous Chicago surgeon, tell of the wonders of blood transfusion, at the January meeting of the Rock County Medical Society at Mercy Hospital Tuesday night.

Introduced by Dr. T. W. Nezum, who once time substituted for Dr. Percy in his practice with Dr. Ochsner, Dr. Percy told of various types of cases where blood transfusion was used. It is said blood transfusion had been found the only effective means in treating severe hemorrhage cases.

Other cases where transfusion is used effectively, he said, is in injury cases where there has been great loss of blood; infectious diseases where blood had been destroyed; in cases of hereditary type of bleeding—persons who bleed with the slightest injury; in putting a patient in shape for an operation and replacing blood lost during the operation.

One of the most interesting cases where blood transfusion was used was in cases of gas poisoning, he said. The destroyed blood is replaced by new, reviving the patient immediately.

Blood is of four types, physicians have determined, and persons of the same type can best give and take blood although some mix with all or several types. Various types of transfusions used are: Various types of plasma transfusions using serum albumin-sorbito to keep blood from clotting, and the method used by Dr. Percy, which is to draw the blood into a Percy tube, coated on the inside with paraffin and containing liquid paraffin, thus preventing the blood from clotting.

Supper was served and a business session held. The next meeting will be held at Beloit, with Mrs. L. J. DoSwarte, Mrs. E. R. Clegg, Beloit; F. C. Blaneveld and W. L. Johnson, Janesville, and S. W. Forbusch, Oconomowoc, having charge of arrangements.

Install Fixtures.—The furniture stock of the Frank D. Kimball store was closed out this morning under an auction sale conducted by Col. W. T. Dowdy for Gresham & Newman, proprietors of the stock. The store will be closed while fixtures for bowling and billiards are being installed.

Extra Classes.—Extra gymnasium classes are being held for juniors and seniors in the high school department of the school every day this week, unless there is little school, due to moving into the new high school.

Amerpol Leaves Hospital.—Edward Amerpol, Janesville floral company, was removed to his home from Mercy hospital Wednesday after several days treatment. He entered the hospital last Thursday.

LODGE NEWS.—Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, will hold regular meeting at 8 p. m. Wednesday at Central hall. Work in the rank of exalted.

ELKS Next Tuesday.—Nomination of officers, initiation and balloting on five applications for membership are on the program for the Elks semi-monthly meeting, Feb. 6, according to Secretary J. Saletta. A report will be made on the formal dancing party given Monday night.

Make Further Plans.—While the finance committee meeting for the contemplated Janesville Industrial exposition was held at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon, it was announced Wednesday further plans are to be made before a report is given out.

Honor Retiring Members.—Eight H. I. members who are leaving the club, having graduated from high school, will be given a special dinner at 6 p. m. There will be a special supper and a 100 percent attendance is looked for. Officers for the coming year will also be chosen.

Picking Beloit to Annex Title of Middle West.

ISPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Beloit—Beloit college, with practically the same team which coped the mid-west title last year, appears to be the best bet for this season's honors.

The Gold showed its strength by defeating Knox by a 36 to 15 count.

The school will be closed Friday so the teachers may attend the teachers' convention in Madison.

Mrs. V. A. Axtell.—Mrs. Edna Norton will entertain Division 1 Friday afternoon at the home of the following:

THE CITY ELECTION.

The city manager form of government was adopted by the citizens of Janesville at the election a year ago. There has been ample time to prepare for the reception of the new form of government. Under the law the city will, after the third Tuesday in April, be managed by a city council of seven and afterward, when selected,
their business agent will be the city manager.
Election takes place as usual in April and no
city officials are to be selected at that time except the council and members of the school board together with such Justices of the Peace and constables as come under the law. We also are to elect a municipal judge but his election has nothing to do with the city manager form since the office is in no way affected.

The whole crux of the election turns on the selection of a city council of seven. These candidates are elected at large—seven men are to be voted for by the whole city. Candidates may be from any ward. There is no restriction as to that point. It would seem wisest that the candidates however, should be representative of all parts of the city. The ward boundaries, so far as the city government is concerned, except for voting purposes, are wiped out. There will be no mayor of the city after the election and qualification of the council April 17, 1923. The council elects a president who in those affairs having to do with mayorally functions, such as presiding at meetings, welcoming visitors and heading processions, will act in the capacity of mayor.

There is nothing very complicated about the matter. The term of office is two years after the first election. In the selection of seven councilmen, the first four having the highest number of votes will serve for two years and the three others
for one year so we will elect three new members in 1924 and four in 1925.

After the election and qualification of the council the next and largest job is the selection of a city manager. In the interim the council is the governing body of the city and the city clerk, city treasurer, and city attorney are either continued in office until the new manager is selected, and makes appointments, or new ones may be named for the interim term by the council. In this way the city government continues to function fully until thoroughly organized with a manager at the head. It was several months after Kenosha, the only other city in the state with a city manager, had elected the council, before a manager was selected.

The council serves without pay and calls for the highest type of man who will consent to sit on the city's board of directors. The very best citizen in Janesville is the man for the job and his multiplication by seven should be sought. It is time the people were thinking about the men who will be available for the council.

Carried to its ultimate conclusion the Goe business will eliminate the undertaker completely except to care for the auto and bootleg victims.

THEN WE CAN GO.

After we have settled such inconsequential
things as the Herrin massacre, the Ku Klux Klan,
the outrages at Harrison, Ark., and the race riots
we will be all ready to go over and straighten the kinks out of Europe.

STATE POLICE

Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, said in his inaugural address that he intended to enforce the prohibition act and has taken steps to see that it is carried out. Squads of the state constabulary were stationed at breweries in a dozen cities and brewery trucks loaded with high percentage beer confiscated. Pennsylvania has an efficient state police. When told to go after a criminal that police force, like the Texas ranger, gets its man.

Wisconsin is presented with the problem of an organization similar to that of Pennsylvania. A bill has been introduced providing for such a state organization. Michigan has a most efficient body of state police. If we are to combat crime successfully it would seem that this is a solution. The largest factor opposed to it is the cost and we are not ready to add to the taxpayers' burden any more at this time.

Addition of much equipment to the tank corps of Janesville is another reason why we should pay some additional attention to the military companies here. We do not take enough cognizance either of the investment made, the amount of

Federal Traffic Rules for Highway

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington.—The time is not so far distant when motorists on the public highways of the land will be subject to traffic regulations fixed by the federal government itself. At least, there was a hint of such a step being taken in the testimony of Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads, before the appropriations committee of the house of representatives recently; and members of the committee seemed to concur in the opinion that federal traffic regulation would be a good thing.

Members of congress seem to feel that there is a simple reason why the government should begin to take a hand in the regulation of traffic on highways. The government is now pouring out money for the construction of roads throughout the United States, spending as much for this purpose
as it is on any other public work. Since 1912 over $166,000,000 of government money has gone into roads, and the money is now being spent at the rate of something like $80,000,000 a year. With such a financial stake in roads, the government is beginning to feel that it should have something to say about how the roads are used.

It is with the view of eventually prescribing uniform traffic regulations for all roads built by federal aid that the government proposes to spend next year something like $7,000 in preliminary work. A similar amount for a similar purpose is being spent this year. With this money the government is surveying road traffic as it exists today, with a view of evolving from its studies solemn rules for the maximum preservation of roads from the wear and tear of traffic on them.

It is the weight of the traffic, the loading of individual cars and trucks, in which the government is primarily interested, rather than in the way the traffic conducts itself on the road, since it is the weight put upon tires which has the chief relationship to the life of a road. It may be said that all rules now superimposed upon motor drivers as to the loading of trucks are simply the result of guesswork and the expression of opinion, although the guesses may be good ones and the opinions valid. The government scientists, however, do not work by guess. They are studying traffic scientifically, and their traffic rules, when ready, will be based upon a great mass of data on actual traffic results.

The field taken for study in the east comprises
the entire state of Connecticut. In this state every bit of traffic passing over every main highway
for an entire year is being counted and analyzed
and part of it weighed. At key stations along
the Connecticut roads the investigators are stationed. The state highway department has authorized the investigation, so that the federal agents have full power to stop the traffic. All traffic leaving and entering the state as well as all local traffic goes under the searchlight. The field men stop everything that passes, note the size and
weight of each vehicle, the number of passengers
in each automobile and the amount and kind of freight being carried in each truck, inquiring the
destination of each so as to know the actual mileage. At some of the stations are road scales over which the traffic is conducted and weighed.

When this census is complete, the Bureau of public roads will have in its possession a statement of every pound of weight and every mile traveled upon the roads of Connecticut. The bureau will then be in a position to study the relationship between volume and weight of traffic and the breakdown of highways, for it will have the full data on the deterioration of Connecticut roads
during the traffic count.

Similar studies are being made or will be made in other sections, so that eventually the figures will present a picture of the entire traffic conditions of the United States. A similar survey, but on a less extensive scale, is also being conducted in Massachusetts. In several counties of Tennessee the government is conducting traffic counts, and state-wide census is going on in California. It is proposed to add complete studies of the traffic in one or more of the agricultural states in the Mississippi valley before proceeding to the formulation of rules.

traffic goes under the searchlight. The field men
stop everything that passes, note the size and
weight of each vehicle, the number of passengers
in each automobile and the amount and kind of
freight being carried in each truck, inquiring the
destination of each so as to know the actual mile-
age. At some of the stations are road scales over
which the traffic is conducted and weighed.

The field taken for study in the east comprises
the entire state of Connecticut. In this state every
bit of traffic passing over every main highway
for an entire year is being counted and analyzed
and part of it weighed. At key stations along
the Connecticut roads the investigators are stationed. The state highway department has auth-

GRAIN

Chicago Review. Wheat turned down even lower in New York, but the market received a slight rally during the early trading, with lower quotations at Liverpool, the chief bearish factor. A little rally after the opening was ascribed to some buying of the market, which had been quiet when this buying ceased. Favorable reports as to the condition of the domestic winter crops tended to support the market. Open contracts, which had ranged from $1.10 to $1.11, with May $1.10 1/2 and July $1.11 1/2, were followed by a partial reaction and then by another.

Subsequent offerings to Europe were increasing, had a temporary further depressing effect, but were soon offset by the apparent absence of export business from the United States. The close was unsold at $1.10 1/2, net decline with May $1.10 1/2 and July $1.11 1/2.

Corn and oats were relatively firm, owing more or less to scantiness of receipts here. After opening a sharp decline, they were resold, but market scored slight general gains.

Selling in sympathy with wheat led to declines later, but only of transient nature. The market settled at the same figure British to its advance, with May $7 1/2 and July 7 3/4.

Oats started unchanged to the highest, May 4 1/2 @ 43 1/2, and later hardened.

Provisions were sustained by an upturn in the value of hogs.

"No Clamming, Open Seining" - 1st Urge of New Fish Club

JUDGE FIFIELD IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT; 52 JOIN CHAPTER

Requesting district representatives in the Wisconsin legislature to maintain a closed season on clamming in Rock river and to open seining for carp in Lake Koshkonong, the Isaak Walton League of America organized Tuesday night and formed a Janesville chapter of the Isaak Walton League of America. Ten minutes after the preliminaries of organization were concluded the lovers of the vast outdoors got down to the business of taking action to correct conditions that have made Rock river a stream with fewer and fewer game fish.

One hundred and twenty-five men and a sprinkling of women attended the meeting, one of the most enthusiastic of its kind ever held here. For more than an hour and a half they itched in their seats with a yearning to grab the reel and feel the tug of the fish as motion pictures took them through the glistening, turbulent streams of the wilds, and as Will H. Dilg, Chicago president of the Isaak Walton League of America, told of the need of action for conservation.

Fifield Elected President

Judge Charles L. Fifield, one of the best known boosters in southern Wisconsin of nature's sports, was the unanimous choice of the sportsmen to be the first president. The other officers chosen were: Wm. W. Wydeka, vice president; Edward Hyzer, secretary and Dr. E. B. Loofboro, treasurer. The dues of the chapter were set at $3 a year, which includes a subscription to the monthly magazine of the organization.

Wydeka, who was present at the meeting, said that Senator A. E. Garey, Edgerton, has introduced a bill in the state legislature opening Lake Koshkonong for the seining of carp, the chapter went on record at once to lend its weight to such legislation.

It had been the plan of some of the members to introduce the measure in this manner before the assembling.

A letter received by Charles E. Snyder, former deputy game warden from the state conservation commission told of Mr. Garey's action.

Carp, it was explained, are doing considerable damage to game fish and vegetation.

Mr. Snyder was instructed to bring the matter before Assembyman A. E. Matheson, Janesville, to bring about joint action at Madison.

Unanimous Against Clamming

The sportsmen decided as a unit to request the legislature to maintain the present twelve month closed season on clamming.

A letter received by Mr. Snyder from Assemblyman Matheson broke the news that clammers of Janesville are seeking legislation to open the season. The sons of the meeting was that the introduction of open clamming would do more harm to game fishing than the benefit commercial clammers may derive financially.

In taking this action, the Janesville "Ike" Waltons concurred in similar decision made recently by the Beloit Rod and Gun club assemblyman Matheson and the portion of the union that would urge upon the legislature the recommendation of the Janesville game fishermen.

Purposes of the Isaak Walton league, now a national organization with several hundred chapters and thousands of members, were outlined by President Dilg. In a heart to heart talk,

Must Save Game

"We must save the country at once," he said. "Fishing is better in England, France, Germany and Norway than in the United States, and think of the age of those countries."

"Our American game requirements have gone in for game conservation, made laws and enforced them. The boy born today is foredoomed to have no fishing at all unless his parents can take him to the far away places. The conservation activities of the United States government are done in the bucket Wisconsin needs more hatcheries and game farms and so does every state in the union."

Mr. Dilg pointed out that 30 years ago Wisconsin was an everlasting Eden with every kind of fish, wild fowl and mammals, while now many new game species are becoming fishless and gameless, forcing sportsmen further north year by year. It is to overcome such situations that the Isaak Walton league was formed, he said, to procure proper legislation, to see proper methods of conservation are instituted and carried out.

Rock River's Dead Fish

"I have received hundreds of letters about the thousands and thousands of dead fish that float down your Rock river," he declared. "This condition will continue unless you look at me and say that it is hopeless."

Mr. Dilg announced the Wisconsin Game Protective association, with more than 10,000 members, is making arrangements to affiliate with the Isaak Walton league.

The next meeting of the Janesville chapter will be held at the city hall, where it was arranged for Wednesday night, or next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

H. L. Skavlem, one of the most noted authorities on Indian lore, introduced Mr. Dilg. Frank Sinclair was chairman of the meeting.

Mitchell Jolts Logan's Ambition

— Milwaukee, "junior" lightweight champion Tuesday night was given an early round of a 10 round bout decision bout over Bud Logan, Omaha, by newspaper critics at the ringside. Mitchell staggered his opponent repeatedly with lefts and rights to chin and body, but Logan was able to withstand the punishment from round to round. Logan's last punch was delivered to the body but at no time did it appear dangerous. The Omaha's boy right eye was badly battered in the eighth round and in the final session a shower of lefts and rights to the body caused Logan's legs to sag. While the bout was a no-decision affair a knockout or foul against the local boy would have lost him the emblem.

Blouin, Pin Champ, Scared by Father

Chicago — A world's champion almost was defeated by his father when James Blouin, holder of the world's bowling title and his father Ed. Blouin, Tuesday night entered the individual competition in the city boys' tournament. The competition finished with a total of 674 while his father counted 668, just plus short of tying his son.

High School Falls Under Oregon's Onslaught, 13-9

Edgerton Legion Beats High Five

(By Staff Correspondent)

Oregon.—In a furious battle here Tuesday night, Janesville high school bowed in defeat before Oregon, 13 to 9. So hard was the night that the scoring in the second half was unusually small.

Janesville broke the ice with Dawson scoring the first basket of the game, but Oregon tightened, sped up the contest, took the lead and held it. Oregon won the most of the high school, 4 to 4 at the half. The contest was fast with many fouls on each side. The legion team is going at a rapid clip. It is composed of former high school stars. The quintet has not lost a home game this season. In fact three of the last six games has it passed 51 points to their opponents' 42. The Stoughton legion and the Fairbanks-Morse seconds are included in these games.

XPenses of this mat. were $5.08. This is almost twice as much as his fee. This statement is not one picked as an exaggeration.

It is one of the usual. Hoping to stage a comeback and grab the victory, Janesville made three substitutions in the third quarter. They failed to pick up, however.

BRINGING UP FATHER

THE HOG athletic official is down in the Big Ten conference John J. Griffith, commissioner of football, thinks the men put in an expense account about what is reasonably comfortable. The conference does not expect its officials to travel in box cars, nor does it intend to be played for a "sucker."

THIS raises the question: Is the fee for handling games too small? Usually less than what an official gets for handling "pro" games. The officials, or most of them, think they should receive a larger stipend. Fifteen dollars, for instance, for being arbiter at a baseball game is not enough, they assert, considering the amount of abuse to which they are apt to be subjected no matter how good a game they umpire.

THIS WRITER knows it has been the practice of some officials to "pad" their expense accounts to make up the difference. In fact, when a new member enters the Big Ten, he is given a free ride.
